Padua Notarials Acts between the Carraresi Dynasty and the Venetian Republic

(1350-1450)

I would like to track the evolution of notarial acts in Padua before and after the 1405 annexation to the Venice Republic. Padua was one of the hotspots of the Roman law renaissance; Venice never adopt it.

Extracting diplomatical and juridical information would therefore be a key issue, hopefully fusing histoire sérielle with digital humanities.
